PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Product designer and UX researcher who turns complex problems into clear, usable experiences. Leads research and interaction design, working with product teams and developers from discovery through implementation.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

UX Engineer | WNS (part of Capgemini) February 2025 - Present

Enterprise trade platform

- Led a nine-week Appian redesign of four workflows and role-specific dashboards; the designs went into production.
- Used interviews, surveys and early prototypes to guide the design system and build stakeholder trust, helping secure the redesign engagement.

Motor claims research

- Won support for discovery and coordinated a four-person team through interviews and surveys, producing a current-state journey and recommendations.
- Checked conflicting user and stakeholder accounts and built an AI-assisted workflow with redacted, traceable sources to support analysis.

AI governance and team enablement

- Contributed research, journey mapping and design-system work to an AI governance platform, with a focus on clarity and transparency.
- Developed design playbooks and interaction standards, and led AI enablement sessions for the team.

UX Designer and Researcher | University of Colorado, Boulder August 2022 - May 2024

- Designed and developed the AxonSquad website, increasing user activity by 15%. Research and usability testing informed refinements to journeys and interactions.
- Prototyped and tested STEM learning kits for children ages 9–13; the findings informed design refinements and supported grant proposals.

Application Development Associate | Accenture | Jul 2019–Feb 2021

- Analyzed business requirements and user workflows for SAP Sales and Distribution, working with cross-functional teams on enterprise processes.
